Dr. George T. Harding, Junior, of Columbus Ohio, a brother of President Harding, has also been summoned to Washington, Secretary Christian said. When Mr. Christian gave out Dr. Sawyer's statement to newspapermen, he said:

"Mrs. Harding is in a very critical condition."
The statement, timed 9 p. m. issued by Dr. Sawyer follows:

"Mrs. Harding, whose illness is a result of a stroke, experienced before coming to the White House, developed complications Thursday and Thursday night which make her condition critical. These complications are serious, but recovery is not yet assured. Dr. John Finney said more, was called in consultation tonight, and Dr. Charles Mayo is en route from Rochester, Minn. Dr. Carl W. ## Slot Machines Are Held Violation Of Anti-Gaming Law

Judge D. Price Withers after hearing arguments on the legality of automatic slot machines by the state and counsel for the owners of the devices in a declaratory opinion handed down this forenoon sustained the interpretation of Mayor Wooding in the police court and held that they are illegal in that they violate the state anti-gambling act. The court heard arguments of both sides and then rendered his decision, counsel for the defense signifying its intention of taking the case up to the Supreme court and putting the issue of these machines squarely before the highest court in the state. The court readily consented that the order at once issue that the papers of appeal may be filed without delay. The court will decide once and for all and for the state at large the question of the legality of these now popular devices which have not been running in Danville since the mayor outlawed them.

Among the attorneys who are representing the owners of the slot machines which in Danville represent a value of over $7,000, is E. P. Buford of Lawrenceville, president of the Danville Amusement Association, one of the foremost lawyers in the State. K. C. Whittle, of Martinsville is also here and H. T. Williams who has represented the interests of the owners of the machines in some time past.

John Carter is appearing and arguing against the legality of the machines.

One of the machines was placed in the courtroom this morning and Judge Withers intended to operate, mints being given for every play and a number of soda checks, this depending upon the combination of the three rotating disc when they stop.

Elistment Of Boy Put Before Senator Swanson

R. M. Foster of this city has appealed to Senator Swanson for his aid in preventing the enlistment of boys under age for the Navy. This action has been precipitated through the enlistment last Tuesday of John Foster, his eleven-year-old son. The appeal was accepted for the navy at the local recruiting office and sent to Richmond before his parents knew anything about it. There is another instance reported in which a fourteen year old boy was lately accepted for service. Mr. Foster bitterly protested to the local office, the recruiting officers accepting children for the navy and said that his son on arrival at Richmond had been so disillusioned that he had threatened to kill himself unless he was released from service. Mr. Foster on hearing of the enlistment of his son, picked it up with Senator Swanson not only with a view of handling his own son's case but to prevent if possible the acceptance of boys manifestly under the enlistment age.

Recruiting Officer Moran who has charge of the naval enlistment station in the federal building here said this morning that he was not in the office when the boy was accepted for service the youth being accepted by Assistant Recruiting Officer Weinberg. He said, however, that the boy was under his own father's influence. He said that if it was proved that the boy was below age that he could readily secure his discharge but that his father would have to pay for his transportation. Moran said that it was the policy of the local station to adhere

Sacrifice Two To Save Crew Of Submarine

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 2.—Two men were drowned from a submarine in singular circumstances during the recent Swedish coastal fleet maneuvers. They were really sacrificed to ensure the safety of the whole crew.

The submarine Ilern, it appeared, fired a torpedo at a movable target and then came to the surface in order to see the effect produced. Four of the crew came on deck, but one suddenly occurred in the ballast tanks, and the commander immediately closed the hatch and submerged, leaving the four to their own resources.

Co-Op. Warehouse Is Burned Down

J. M. Wright has returned to Danville from Johnsonville, a small town about 35 miles south of Florence, S. C. His report on the destruction there by the fire on Wednesday night at the warehouse leased by the Co-operative Marketing Association with a large quantity of tobacco. The warehouse belonged to S. B. Poston, a member of the association. Mr. Wright could not give many details of the loss, as the fire had barely burned itself out when he left. He said, however, that there was a large quantity of tobacco in the house to be graded and tied. The loss was estimated at $100,000. The warehouse and the tobacco had not been insured.

Three of the men were washed off the deck, but the fourth clung to the submarine's periscope. The submarine rose again quickly and this man was rescued. Two of the men who were washed overboard were taken to the water camp and died. The admiral, Ancarero, was caught in the wake of the battleship Sveridge and drowned. The other man was picked up by a naval cutter.

It is reported that the entire crew of the submarine would probably have been lost if the commander had failed to submerge immediately the trouble was discovered.

Nation's Industrial Conditions Show Steady Improvement

Even Offsets Reaction Caus- ed by Rail and Coal Strike —Reflected by Number of Persons Employed.

(By GEORGE H. MANNING.)
(Special to The Bee.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—The industrial conditions of Virginia and the surrounding States are reported to be the number of those employed, continued their steady improvement during August, the results of the industrial analysis made by the Employment service of the Labor Department for the past month show.

The improvement in industrial conditions is not without effect even on reaction caused by the coal and railroad strikes.

Slight decreases in employment in some places were attributed to labor turnover. Among the groups showing the greatest increase in number of employees were the chemical industry on August 31 as compared with the greatest increase: leather and its finished products, stone and glass products, railroad repair shops, and tobacco. Some decreases were noted in the manufacture of vehicles, metals and metal products other than iron and steel; food and kindred products, paper and printing, lumber and its manufactures, textiles and their products, iron and steel, and liquor and beverages.

Where investigations of employment were made 23 reported employment increases and 26 reported decreases during August.

The decrease in metals, vehicles, iron and steel, and miscellaneous industries are attributable to the coal and railroad strikes. Many industries showed improvement in spite of the coal and coal strikes. The textile industry is showing marked signs of improvement approaching a boom.

Other encouraging indications are satisfactory increasing employment, although in some sections inability to obtain materials because of transportation difficulties has retarded progress.

Virginia the industrial improvement was particularly marked, to such an extent that it entirely overcame the retarding effect of the shortage of fuel and transportation.

The Labor Department's report on employment conditions in Virginia generally and for the principal industrial centers of the State reads as follows:

The Labor Department's report for Virginia in general and for the principal industries towns of the state reads as follows:

Conditions considerably improved. Heavy increases evident in textiles, lumber, and the leather industry, approximately 2,800 workers being returned to employment. Slight increases noted in food and kindred products, iron and steel, chemicals, metals and metals

"Wanderings" Of U. S. Senators Make Quorum Difficult To Get

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Abeenevelt became so general in the Senate today that it was necessary to appoint Senators, who responded to the call, to be counted, not on an account of pairs, to make a quorum.

"Where is my wandering boy to-night?" might be asked regarding a large number of Senate members. A. L. Sam's "Where is my wandering boy to-night?" might be asked regarding a large number of Senate members. A. L. Sam's "Where is my wandering boy to-night?" might be asked regarding a large number of Senate members.

On, of the number, Senator O. E. Keeler, of Maryland, is in Japan with the navy, and has been ordered to the class at the United States Naval Academy; five are in Europe and many of them are campaigning in Maine, where the first general election will be held in November. Those who are in Europe are sick.

Those who are in Europe are Senators T. H. Caraway, Arkansas; William J. Harris, Georgia; Edwin J. Frazier, North Dakota; Selma C. Wheeler, and William B. McKinley, Illinois.

Because of the psychological effect the Main election in September is having on the country, the republicans in all other States in November, both parties are conducting a vigorous campaign there, but the Republicans have a much larger number of Senators and orators, and for the record, on their colleague Senator Fred McMillan, than have the Democrats.

Senator Medill McCormick, chairman of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee, is directing the campaign, but was not until today that the Democrats selected their chairman of the senatorial committee—Senator David L. Walsh of New York.

Among the Republican Senators who are in Maine now are Walter E. Edge, New Jersey; George Wharton Pepper, Pennsylvania; Frank H. Willis, Ohio, and Mr. Hale. The only Democratic Senator there at this time is Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock, of Nebraska.

Among those Senators who are in their own home States campaigning for reelection are: Alice Pomerene, Oregon; Joseph C. Foraker, Maryland; Joseph S. Burdick, New Hampshire; Hiram Johnson, California; A. James, New Mexico; John B. Kendrick, Wyoming; Henry Cabot Lodge, Massachusetts; Kenneth McKellar, Tennessee; and Charles E. Townsend, Michigan.

Senator Peter Norbeck, of South Dakota, and Senator Pat Harrison, of Mississippi, are in their home States taking part in the campaign of either aspirants for office.

Among those who are absent from the Senate on account of their own sickness or sickness in their families are: George W. Kayser, New Hampshire; Henry M. Fernald, Maine; Henry W. Harris, Nebraska; Lee S. Overman, North Carolina; Carroll S. Pace, Vermont; and Key Pittman, Nevada.

These Senators on the Tariff bill are so anxious to get that measure before the two houses of Congress for final approval and submission to the President for his signature that they have not responded to the roll call today. They are Senators Porter J. McCumber, North Dakota; Reed Smoot, Utah; George P. McLean, Connecticut; F. M. Simmons, North Carolina, and Welch, of Massachusetts.

Negro Held For Shooting Another In Money Dispute

Sam Palmer, negro, arrested last night for shooting and wounding a colored man, Scott, also colored, was given a hearing in the morning at the grand jury. Palmer was brought in this morning and his case sent to the grand jury. Palmer arranged bonds of $500 for his appearance before the grand jury in November. Scott was seriously injured and is now lying in bed, unable to get up, and is striking his right arm. He was able to appear in court this morning.

The shooting occurred yesterday afternoon near the corner of Claiborne and Washington streets. The words were of a small debt and Palmer brought forth a pistol and fired. There was no quarrel or fight before the shooting. Palmer was not arrested until late in the afternoon. Officer T. E. Bowles captured him.

Scott testified this morning that he owed Palmer a small amount of money and that the latter approached him and asked for it. He says he told the man he didn't have it then but that Palmer doubled his statement, whereupon he reached for his hands into his pocket to show him that he had only seven cents. Palmer then fired.

Palmer said that he thought Scott was reaching for a pistol and he shot in self defense.

The only other case tried this morning was the imposition of a fine of $10 and costs on Tom Green, colored, for violation of the Mapp act. Green was arrested yesterday on Newton street with half gallon of whiskey.

Man In Hospital; His "Body" Buried

Peck Threatens To Bring Suit

No further developments took place overnight in connection with the case of John T. Peck who is held here as a fugitive from justice from Pershing, Oklahoma, where he is said to be wanted for the embezzlement of $8,000 funds of the American Railway Express Company. A special agent who is said to know personally the man wanted for the offense is on his way here from Oklahoma now and probably will reach here tomorrow. Until then further procedure is in abeyance.

Peck was seen at the jail this morning and denied that he was the man wanted in most emphatic terms. So sure is he of being freed of the charge that he has arranged with counsel to institute a damage suit against the state for his confinement. Peck was not wholly communicative however and confined himself to the statement that he could show by reputable witnesses that he was nowhere near Pershing, Oklahoma at the time of the alleged embezzlement last December. He said that he had never been there and said that the color of his eyes, the formation of his teeth and the fact that he had hair as thick as the rest of the world, was the description of the wanted man printed on circulars. He said that he fully expected to be released and that he would resume his work here.

Peck will decline to say anything else between now and the time of the effort to fully identify him. He proposes to remain in the solitude of his cell and to refuse to see anyone. His counsel proposes to have Peck taken from the jail and put in the hands of his attorneys. The men and will ask the Oklahoma officer to pick out his man. A prisoner has the right it is understood to refuse to see anyone and his attorney proposes to see that he has the benefit of the last.

He. Hence, the detective who caused the man's arrest here will remain in Danville until the matter has been cleared up.

Notwithstanding the expressed confidence of Peck in being able to prove his innocence, the authorities appear to be confident that they have the right man but are unwilling to disclose what evidence they hold.

Supposed Dead, He Is Recognized by Brother From Sharpsburg, Md.—Corpse Identity Mystery.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Stanley Edward Groves, of Harper's Ferry, W. Va., is in St. Elizabeth's Hospital today under mental observation, where his supposed brother, identified by Groves' brother, is buried in the family lot at Keadysville, Md.

William Groves, of Sharpsburg, Md., brother of the politician, told the police several weeks ago that a man who dropped dead in the lobby of the Howard House here on August 3, was Stanley Groves.

The body was removed from the morgue and sent to Sharpsburg, where Groves' death was mourned and burial at Keadysville, Md.

A few days ago a friend of Groves' family visited St. Elizabeth's Hospital and saw the supposed dead man there. "She spoke to him but received no answer," he told the police.

Alarmed, she telegraphed to Sharpsburg of her discovery.

"Stanley is dead and buried," was the reply.

The woman persisted in her belief and reflected her sentiments in a telegram to William Grover, begging him to come to Washington. He arrived here today and visited the hospital, where he was brought face to face with his brother, whom he himself formerly had declared to be dead.

"My God, it's Stanley!" he gasped. The Sharpsburg man, nerves shaken by the amazing turn of affairs, now believed his own eyes. He saw that his brother was well cared for.

He found that Stanley Groves was arrested on June 28, when he ran into a bakery, near Eleith and H streets, enemies were following him with intent to kill, and he was sent to Washington Asylum Hospital for mental observation and later transferred to St. Elizabeth's.

Groves will be given a hearing before the lunacy commission in the near future.

Who is the man buried under the name of Stanley Groves?

William Groves doesn't know and the police do not. The identification was positive, and apparently admitted by the subject.

Groves is widely known throughout West Virginia and is believed to have come on political business.

Police hope to identify the buried man by means of addresses found in his belongings. These are:

Borden, 420 Whitney Central Building, New Orleans; J. C. Wardlaw, Fifty-sixth street and Lexington avenue, New York City; William A. Coffa, 415 Pioneer Place, Cincinnati, and the Bank of Commerce, Tampa, Fla.

Mrs. Harding III

have joined in the attendance on Mrs. Harding today.
Dr. Finney, reached the White House at 8 o'clock tonight.
Concern over the illness of Mrs. Harding, wife of the president, was expressed today at the White House. The announcement that the condition had improved somewhat during the day. In a bulletin to the press, Brigadier General C. E. Sawyer, the family physician, said some serious complication had developed last night. They abated slightly today and Mrs. Harding was reported to be resting easier.
The illness was described as hydro-nephrosis from which Mrs. Harding has suffered at intervals since a surgical operation nine years ago. In 1918 she passed through an acute attack, and shortly after Mr. Harding was elected president in 1920, was again ill. On both occasions, however, her illness yielded more readily to treatment, it was said, than the present attack.
Mrs. Harding felt the first effects of her present illness nearly two weeks ago while on a week-end cruise on the Mayflower with the president and a party of friends. Last week she was reported to be suffering from a severe cold, and early this week felt sufficiently recovered to again be about the White House. A setback, however, occurred with complication marked by recurrence of hydro-nephrosis, again confining Mrs. Harding to her room.
During the past two days Dr. Sawyer has been at her bedside, his son, Dr. Carl W. Sawyer of Marion, Ohio, arriving today for consultation. Dr. Joel T. Boone, naval medical officer on the Mayflower, and a number of laboratory technicians and two trained nurses also have been in attendance.
The president spent part of the morning today at Mrs. Harding's bedside. After the cabinet meeting he again left his office to be with her, and late in the afternoon laid aside his official duties to express to the sick woman. Messages expressing the hope that Mrs. Harding would quickly be restored to the health were received throughout the day at the White House, and a number of cabinet members and prominent government officials called personally to inquire as to her condition.

The president and Mrs. Harding have remained in Washington or in the last two months continuously, except for one brief trip down the Potomac on the presidential yacht, and have had practically no social engagements. Mrs. Harding had appeared to be in excellent health, but friends are of the opinion that the strain incident to the acute industrial situation, with which she had kept constantly in touch, might have contributed to her illness.
President Harding remained continuously at the bedside tonight never having left the sick room since late today. During the day, too, he was there frequently, spending part of the morning there and again after the regular cabinet meeting this afternoon going to visit her.
Secretary Christian and several attaches remained at the White House tonight where there was evident a feeling of apprehension. It was the impression that a definite turn to the illness might be expected within the next 24 hours.

LEAGUE COUNCIL REPORTS SHOW DISARMAMENT

GENEVA, Sept. 8.—(By The Associated Press.)—Reports presented by the council of the League of Nations on reduction of armaments at this afternoon's session of the third assembly of the league show that in more than a score of countries restrictions of military outlay have been begun.

Great Britain reported a reduction of 55 per cent. in naval tonnage, France 36 per cent., Italy 49 per cent. and Japan 59 per cent. In land armaments France reported a reduction of 200,000 men and the shortening of the term of military service by one-half. Sweden also reported the cutting of her military service in two; Italy reduced the percentage of her army from 88 to 66; Poland reported a reduction of her army of a million men to about 250,000; Japan made reductions but failed to give the figures, while Switzerland reduced from 70 per cent. to 55 per cent. the proportion of men her men eligible for military service.
Haiti took the front rank in the debates of this assembly when Delegate Bellegarde of that country took the floor today and made the most eloquent speech of the session. He reviewed the work of the council and demanded an investigation of the operations of a punitive expedition sent by the South African government some time ago against the natives of South Africa territory for which South Africa has the mandate.

Confederate veterans (including the grandsons), to take the initiative, perfect a working organization and press this movement to splendid consummation. Such action by the younger men would be a credit to them and a corresponding number of the largely nominal existence of the organization of Sons.

MAIL SERVICE TO WITT ARRANGED

Because of the discontinuance of train No. 10 on the Southern the morning mail service to Witt has been considerably delayed. This delay has been obviated by Postmaster Reynolds of that place, who has made arrangements to come to Danville and transport letter mail and papers to Witt by automobile. The people of Witt will thus receive their letters on time and also get the morning papers as usual.

COMMUNITY PLAY AT KENTUCK TODAY

People of rural communities frequently lose the great opportunity of furnishing wholesome recreation to the young people by not properly encouraging athletics, group-playing and group-singing. Rural community leaders are realizing that it is better to direct a high type of play and social intercourse than to let the young people and children seek entertainment in hot cities or in haphazard and uncontrolled ways.

The success of such a movement requires a large number of contestants and a corresponding number of supervisors and judges. It will therefore be interesting to watch the outcome of the community play this afternoon at Kentucky. It will depend on the enthusiasm and interest shown by parents and older people, as well as the young people and children. Whether this movement attain the success and beneficial results its promoters intend is a question.

Sapiro To Speak Here On Sept. 15

(Special From Tobacco Growers Association, N. C., Sept. 8.—The opening of the cooperative markets at Durham, Henderson, Oxford, and other points of the middle belt of North Carolina have been delayed one week owing to special arrangements being made by the leaf and warehouse departments of the association to receive the crop in this section where the sign up is heavy.

Large deliveries running into the millions of pounds were made again this week to the association warehouses in South Carolina and the eastern belt and the regiment of the organized growers over the reports that they lacked the honor and manhood to keep their contract with their own organization in resulting in daily letters to the association from tobacco growers who deny this charge.

"It affords me a lot of pleasure to write this letter of praise for my association," writes D. B. Hicks, of O'watts, S. C. He says, "I am doing all I can to be loyal to my contract. Here is a little of my success. I have pooled 847 pounds for $71.48, an average of $8.75 a hundred pounds. I sold my entire crop last year of 1640 pounds for $208. 80, an average of 7 1/2 cents and my first draw this year so far, has average me $8.75 per hundred. I have half of my crop yet."

P. C. Jones, of Nichols, S. C., whose first cash advance averaged over $7.50 a hundred, offers to make affidavit that his tenant who failed to sign the marketing contract received final payment for his tobacco at five cents a pound on the auction market. The fact that nine markets of South Carolina brought the growers more cash for their tobacco through the cooperative houses than they received last year on auction floors during the same period has greatly encouraged the growers, who have assurances of a second cash advance in Jones, of Nichols, S. C.

Aaron Sapiro attorney for the Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association, and the successful cooperatives of California will address a great mass meeting of tobacco farmers at Danville on Friday, September 15th, and will meet the growers of mecklenburg, who have effected a 50 per cent. sign up within the association.

At Southville, Va., on Saturday, September 16th, Mr. Sapiro, who has fully tried the case of one ridge, a contract breaker of the California Bean Growers' Association, and secured judgment against him or more than $21,000 damages is scheduled to handle the case of Garrett Watts, the Kentucky man, who sold his tobacco outside of the association.

RELEASE MEN FOUND TEMPERING WITH ENGINES

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 8.—Judge D. Lawrence Croner, of the Federal court, today discharged O. E. Edwards and O. C. Lyons, arrested several days ago for tampering with engines on the Richmond Fredericksburg and Potomac railroad. Judge Croner said to the men that the laws will be enforced and he deprecated this affair, saying that Virginia is a law abiding state. When the men said they were recent comers, he advised them to get away from Virginia at once. The information was not definite against the men. The arrests were made by the detectives of the railroad company. Edwards and Lyons having been employed in the shops since the strike began.

INVESTIGATING WRECK OF TRAIN

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 8.—Officials of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad are investigating a report that the rail car of train No. 8, which left Washington this afternoon at 2 o'clock, was due to a split switch. The engine, mail car and combination car turned over when the train left the track 3 miles west of Gordonsville. Traffic between Gordonsville and Charlottesville was tied up for several hours and trains were rerouted. Traffic was expected to be cleared before morning.

—Mrs. E. J. Boury, Jr., who has been critically ill at her home on Claiborne street, reported today as improving.

It is not out of reason to expect that the picture of the title of the picture will be a little curiosity. ### COULD NOT TURN IN BED Operation Avoided by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Dayton, Ohio.—"I had such pains that I had to be turned in bed every time I wanted to move. They said an operation was necessary. My mother would keep saying: 'Why don't you take Pinkham's, Henrietta?' and I'd say, 'Oh, mamma, it won't help me. I've tried too much.' One day she said, 'Let me get you one bottle of each kind. You won't be out very much if it don't help you.' I don't know if you will believe me or not, but I only took two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and one of Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine when I began to get relief and I am regular ever since without a pain or a headache.

When I lie down I can get up without help and without pain. I can't begin to tell you how I feel and look. I have begun to gain in weight and look more like I ought to. I think every day of ways I have been helped. Any one who does not believe me can write to me and I will tell them what shape I was in. I am ready to do anything I can to help your medicine."—MRS. EDWARD MILLER, 137 Sprague St., Dayton, Ohio.

Monument to the Women Of South

Some twenty-six years ago, the late Dr. B. B. Temple, a beloved physician and patriot, urged the rearing by the people of Danville of a monument of some appropriate memorial to the women of the South and particularly to the war women. In urging the consummation of that suggestion the appropriateness of which appeals to many, a concert was given at that time and the proceeds were deposited in bank as the nucleus of a monument fund in accordance with the suggestion of its leading proponent. During all these years that fund has been yielding interest, which compounded, has now brought the principal and increment up to about $500.

At a recent meeting of Daughters of the Confederacy, Mrs. Temple, widow of the venerated physician now long ago gone to his reward, turned this fund over to the daughters for such use as they deemed it wise to undertake. The execution of the original project has been definitely proposed, and, believing that the sum of $1,000 would be sufficient to rear a creditable memorial to the Daughters, with the co-operation of the Sons of Confederate veterans, will undertake to raise the additional $400 and as soon as this is done, order a monument of appropriate design. Such a memorial ought to be a thing of beauty and grace and a thing of beauty in order fully to represent those whose services in times that tried men's souls and women's also. The movement is one which has been long in the air, and it is one which women have with characteristic modesty and self-abnegation insisted that they do not wish a monument, such a memorial should be reared preferably by the men, but it seems appropriate also that the daughters of the war women of the Confederacy and their granddaughters also should take in this tribute to those who have served all honor that can be accorded them. If it be sweet and glorious to die for one's country as the Latin poet wrote, it is not less sweet and glorious to have lived and suffered and sacrificed for it.

There is an opportunity for the Sons of the Confederacy to take part in this movement.

Plan Perpetual Logging Camp

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—The last great tract of untouched pine timber in the United States and the last frontier of settlement, are about to pass. Behind the announcement of the Forest Service regarding the proposed logging of the Malheur National Forest, Oregon, says a statement by the National Lumber Manufacturers' Association, lumbermen see the last opportunity for their trade to deal with a virgin pine forest of great extent and the last opportunity for the settler to take possession of a region, now remote from railways and markets, and virtually unused agriculturally.

"The opening for sale of the timber of the Bear Valley unit of the Malheur National Forest," says the statement, "affects 900,000,000 feet of the great Blue Mountains forests now, and means the beginning of the lumbering of an entire forest with its more than 7,000,000,000 feet of timber. To begin the lumbering operations it will be necessary to build about 80 miles of main line railway, besides tap lines, which will open for settlement an agricultural country with area of 10,000 square miles."

"While this ancient forest is doomed, the terms are such that the succession of its sylvan posterity is secure. Through the timber now offered for sale by the Forest Service is sufficient to keep a moderate-sized mill running continuously for twenty years, the Service will at the end of that time open up another unit and eventually 7,000,000,000 feet of timber will be available. It is reckoned that by the time the last unit is cut over, the first one will be ready for cutting again."

A. T. Reynolds Is Taken to the Pen

A. T. Reynolds, of Patrick county, the man who shot and killed his son, Anthony Reynolds two years ago, just before Christmas, has been taken to the pen and removed to the State penitentiary where he will have to serve an eight-year term.

Reynolds secured continuances for one reason or another but was finally brought to trial and convicted. He was refused bail in Patrick but appealed to the Supreme Court and won freedom on heavy bail pending an outcome of the appeal which he took to the Supreme Court where he found no error in his trial, the verdict of the jury being sustained.

Center College Very Hopeful

DANVILLE, Ky., Sept. 8.—With 26 veterans of the squad that last year took Harvard into camp, Centre college football officials are looking forward to another great team this year. The schedule calls for ten games, with Virginia Polytechnic, Harvard, Clemson, Auburn, Kentucky and Washington and Lee being included.

"Bo" McMillan, the great quarterback of the last four years will not be with the Colonels. Neither will Tom Moran. But "Red" Roberts will be present to guide the destinies of the Colonels.

Backers of the team are counting on young Herb Covington filling the hole left by the graduation of McMillan to a large extent. Some claim that Covington, while perhaps lacking the almost uncanny football instinct of the mighty "Bo" and his knack of outwitting the opposition, is a better broken field runner than McMillan.

Veterans expected to report for duty on September 13 include: Captain "Red" Roberts; Terry Snoddy; Herb Covington; Hump Tanner; Minos Gordy; Buck Jones; Ed. Kubale; Bill Shadcan; Tom Bartlett and a large number of others.

The Colonels will not be able to use any freshmen this year. Chick Murphy has been retained as freshman coach. Charlie Moran and Chick Meyers will have charge of the varsity.

The schedule follows: Sept. 23—Clemson at Danville; Sept. 30—Clemson at Danville; Oct. 7—Mississippi College at Danville; Oct. 14—Virginia Polytechnic at Richmond; Oct. 21—Harvard at Cambridge; Oct. 28—Louisville at Danville; Nov. 4—Kentucky at Lexington; Nov. 11—Washington and Lee at Louisville; Nov. 18—Auburn at Birmingham; Nov. 30—South Carolina at Danville.

LAKE IN HUNGARY SLOWLY DRYING UP

BUDAPEST, Sept. 9.—The biggest lake in Hungary, Lake Balaton, covering about 360 square miles, would appear slowly to be drying up. In some places the water has receded a mile from the old shore line within a few years and the shrinking continues.

No one can give an explanation particularly as there has been plenty of rain recently. Geologists say that volcanic changes in the bed of the lake are responsible.

World's New Storm Center

The United States government will send one or more battleships to Sumatra (1) to protect our nationals in Asia Minor following severe reverses inflicted on the Greek army by Turkish nationalists. The Turks, operating from their base at Angora (2), have launched cavalry attacks at Smyrna, Brusa and Imdid, occupied by the Greeks. ## COUNTER WRIT OF INJUNCTION ISSUED TODAY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Temporary injunction restraining United States Marshall Snyder from interfering with a meeting of the Brotherhood of electrical workers, one of striking rail shop crafts, from doing anything to limit the right of the workers to strike, was issued today by Justice Bailey in the District Columbia Supreme Court. The court denied a petition for a similar injunction against District Attorney Gordon.

APPEAL REFUSED BECAUSE IT IS NOT MADE IN TIME

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 9.—The supreme court of appeals rendered a decision today which is expected to cause consternation in the ranks of the lawyers of Virginia, and which will result in many appeals being thrown out of court. The case in question is that of John Farris vs. Norfolk and Western railway, in which the supreme court refused to grant Farris a writ of error because the application was made on Sept. 7, 1922, this not being within six months of the date of final judgment.

The action of the court is taken under recent act of the general assembly, approved Feb. 17, 1922, which cuts down the time for making application for writs of error from one year to six months. Lawyers generally have taken it for granted that the act had no retroactive effect but only applied to appeals taken from judgments rendered on or after June 13, 1922, when the new law went into effect. But under the decision rendered today it is given the far reaching effect of applying even to judgments which are rendered before the law was approved by the governor. In the case before the court today the judgment was rendered five months before the act went into effect.

Some lawyers are of the opinion that the supreme court in its decision today has given the act a retroactive effect, which would invalidate all appeals taken from judgments rendered before the act was passed. The legislature has the power to pass retroactive legislation as to matters of procedure and that applications or writs of error come in this class. Certain it is that there are many judgments rendered more than six

Guard Poincare Night and Day

LONDON, Sept. 9.—All the precautions taken to guard the crowned heads who from time to time have visited London, failed into significance compared with those taken to protect the French Premier while here recently to do his best to try to make Germany pay up. It is said they were due to the discovery, before he left Paris, that he had been marked down for murder by German plotters who killed Dr. Rathenau.

Nearly a hundred detectives were detailed to guard Poincare, including 30 sent over by the Paris Surete, the equivalent of London's Scotland Yard. Day and night ceaseless watch was kept over him. The hotel at which he stopped was surrounded by police. Several detectives were stationed at the hotel as guests, the better to look out for any suspicious characters who might try to approach him. Even the preparation of his meals was superintended by chefs who were brought over from Paris.

When the time came to leave the hotel each morning for the conference at Downing Street, he was accompanied downstairs from his suite—he never used the elevator—by many as eight or more detectives who surrounded him and escorted him to his motor car. He was simply rushed into the automobile and at once the streets through which he was to journey were cleared as if by magic and speed limitations were ignored.

During the French Premier's stay detectives scoured Soho and other haunts of anarchists or Communists, listening and searching for any word that might indicate a conspiracy against M. Poincare's safety. Perhaps he himself had nothing to do with it, but such an extraordinary precautions conveyed the impression that while in London he was in deadly fear of his life.

Sailor's Story Is Discounted

BALTIMORE, Sept. 8.—Police authorities here did not place much credence in the confession of Norman George Bennett, the young sailor at Norfolk, who declared a conspiracy against M. Poincare's safety. Perhaps he himself had nothing to do with it, but such an extraordinary precautions conveyed the impression that while in London he was in deadly fear of his life.

Police Commissioner Galtier said he did not attach importance to the story. It is strongly at variance with several important known facts.

Frederick Tilsch, 32, known as "Red" employed at a motion picture parlor, is being held by police as a suspect.

The states attorney has requested the navy department to release Bennett to the local authorities for examination.

Miss Cecil Belden who has been visiting Mrs. Gladys Ferguson on North Main extension, has returned to her home in Richmond.

Given 30 Days To Leave Town

Mr. and Mrs. George Conrad, charged with operating an ill-governed house near Stonewall Jackson school, must leave the city of Danville within 30 days, or serve three months in jail.

This was the result of a hearing of the case in the mayor's court this morning at 11 o'clock. No evidence was taken, although twenty women residents of the neighborhood of the Conrads were on hand to testify against them, having made the complaint to the police. The case was called last Saturday and a number of young women, who were alleged to have stayed at the Conrad house, gave damaging testimony against the accused. Mrs. Conrad was not present and a continuance was granted until today. The young women who testified last Saturday were not present this morning.

Besides residents of the neighborhood, it is understood members of the school board and Parent-teachers' association, also made complaint and played a part in bringing the case to court.

Sentences of ninety days in jail were imposed on both Mr. and Mrs. Conrad this morning, but these were suspended for thirty days on condition that they leave Danville for good. They were given this time to straighten up their affairs here and depart. Police were instructed that if either of the two were seen in Danville after thirty days to lock them up. The above agreement was finally reached following arguments by counsel for the Conrads and Commonwealth Attorney J. W. Carter.

No More Bargains In Russian Gems

(By The Associated Press) WARSAW, Sept. 9.—Diamonds are in such demand among foreigners visiting Russia in search of bargains that the nearby bordering cities are being raided by hordes of Russian cutters. By ingenious ways these diamonds—if some of them can be called diamonds—are sent to Moscow, and there put on the market.

Russian diamonds have been extensively advertised in Europe and the United States. Owing to misfortune many wealthy families, when reverses came, sold their jewels at prices far less than they were worth. But time has brought about a change in conditions. There were many diamond bargains in Russia in the early days of the revolution and the hard times which followed. This quite naturally attracted the attention of foreigners, and for years every visitor to Russia went with the hope of finding a nice "pick up" or two for himself or his wife, or for speculation.

Merchants contend that there are probably more yellow and specked diamonds in Moscow today than in any other city. And many of these, through speculators, came from the outside especially for the "trade". Eventually through bargain-hunting foreigners, these stones will be taken out of the country again at $150 or $200 a carat when on the open market they would not bring half that price.

D. & W. Men To Give Answer To Proposal Today

Representatives of the shopmen of the Danville and Western who are out on strike will meet at the office of the superintendent at four o'clock this afternoon for the purpose of delivering their answer to the proposition which was made them Thursday night by G. H. Dugan, vice president of the railway company. While the railroad is a subsidiary of the Southern, it was explained today that the Southern executives have nothing to do with the offer made which comes from the Danville and Western company. The proposition was that the men would be given the status quo ante if they would agree to return to work in other words the same rates of pay and the same hours of work as prevailing on the day of the strike would be restored if they would return to work.

Four o'clock this afternoon was the hour set for the reply. If the answer is negative the company has announced that it will fill the Danville shops and replace the men on strike.

There was no intimation as to what the answer would be. The striking shopmen are understood to have held a meeting and to have discussed the matter fully.

The Lone Wolf Leaped to The Rescue. Then—

"What followed was not very clear to him. The mock-American fought like a devil unchained. The animals at the pole ran away in good earnest, that wretched barouche rolled and pitched like a rudderless ship in a crazy sea; the two men floundered in its well like two fish in a pool."

"They fought by no rules, with no science, but bit and kicked and gouged and wrrenched and struck as occasion offered, and each to the best of his ability."

"Duchemin caught glimpses of a face hideously distorted with working features and disfigured with sneers of soot through which insane eyeballs rolled and glared in the moonlight."

"Then a hand like a vice gripped his windpipe, he was on his back, his head overhanging the edge of the floor, a thumb was feeling for his eyes."

And so the "Lone Wolf"—that charming gentleman known as Duchemin who was once the greatest crackman in the world—was plucked from his ease in southern France and pitched into a whirlpool of adventure.

SORROW AT THE WHITE HOUSE.

The earnest hope of a great nation today centered on the White House—hope that the shocking news conveyed to the world this morning may be only a temporary alarm, and that Mrs. Harding will recover from her illness. Sympathy also goes out to President Harding, maintaining a vigil at his wife's bedside, suffering those racking mental tortures which all of us experienced at one time or another when a loved one has been passing through a crisis. Political antipathies are forgotten, party creeds are submerged and the nation unites in a sense of solicitude for an ailing woman who, though playing no official part in the country's life is the help-mate of its chief executive.

Yesterday Mrs. Harding's illness appeared to be trivial and a happy outcome from her affliction was cheerfully forecast. Yesterday her condition became much worse and today's news that she may not recover comes as a great shock. Today will see the turning point in the trend of the illness of which Mrs. Harding is suffering. One catches a glimpse of the burdens that the president is carrying with a great domestic trial added to national cares never heavier than now with the fever of industrial unrest upon the country.

All classes of citizens will unite in the earnest hope for Mrs. Harding's recovery, and in the churches tomorrow the usual prayers offered for the health and happiness of the president and his wife will have added solemnity and significance.

THE MILK ORDINANCE.

The status of the city milk ordinance adopted last Spring, designed to render remote the danger of outbreak of disease which can so readily be conveyed by improper handling of this elementary food product is peculiar to say the least. One of the smaller milk dealers is represented as having failed to measure up to the standards of the ordinance, this after being given an extra month to set his house in order, and despite this he is selling milk in the absence of a permit. The milk ordinance was to be an ironclad law to protect the public and after temporizing September 1st was the date set for the effectiveness of the statute. The policy of the health department has been one of co-operation and education and it has striven to win the voluntary assistance of the dealers in safeguarding the milk supply, but it was necessary sooner or later to set a dead line and this has been reached and overstepped in one instance and in spite of the denial of the necessary permit he continues to sell.

In justice to the dealer it should be said that he was instructed that a certain phase of the ordinance might not apply in his case and he proceeded accordingly only to be informed recently that he would have to incur an added expense and that he could not sell milk until he had built a milk house.

The law has been published and the requirements were patent. The point is who had the authority to inform the dealer that he might evade part of it?

WOMAN CHARGED WITH BLAME IN MURDER CASE

MACON, Ga., Sept. 8.—Mrs. Alice Gibbs, 46, who is charged with the murder of her husband, Alex Johnson, was shot and killed by her brother, Hiram, the latter and his sister, Jennie, who received wounds which are expected to prove fatal, are today in a hospital. The officers said that the shooting occurred when Mrs. Gibbs was permitting Alex Johnson to visit her at a house where members of the family gathered. Alex was married and the father of four children.

Mrs. Gibbs was taken into custody at Vidalia last night and she had been because of threats against her. Officers at Vidalia say that she recently had a hard time of it, and that Alex Johnson was one of the biggest relations with her. At the time he charged her with the murder and his brother Hiram was in the crowd. The officers said that the shooting occurred when the Gibbs family was gathered together.

Scoop's Colyum

PLEASANT GAP, Sept. 9.—(Grapevine Wireless).—Boys will be boys, and there are all kinds of boys—good, bad and indifferent. Most in general they take after their fathers, and this puts responsibility upon the old man that he cannot sidestep. The dynamic force of youthful energy is like the action of the steam engine, it must have a safety valve to take care of surplus power. The boy generates mischief naturally and this takes care of his surplus energy. Just what direction his activities may take depends upon impulse and opportunity. A case in point:

"Helping Dads." Willie Spivia was a minister's son and, like other sons of the divine, his ideas of what a boy should do, were not altogether in accord with his father's rules. To attend church services and listen to sermons, as a moral exhibit to other people, was one of his commanded duties, much to his dislike and discomfort. At last, reconciled to his fate, his boyhood ingenuity found a way out.

One Sunday morning his father, raising his eyes from the sermon (a very dry sheet), was paralyzed with amazement and despair to see his moral exhibit in the gallery, with a bowler cap, pelting the hearers below. As the minister gave a frown of reproof, the heedless youngster cried out:

"You 'tend to your preachin', dads, I'll keep 'em awake."

"The Chase"

An Honest Factory Girl. I am thinking sadly thinking. As the twilight gathers gray. Of the duties we accomplish And our laboring day by day.

As the winds grow cold and chilling. Soon will come the Winter snow. When we will leave our fireside warm And to our labor go.

For months and years we've labored here. To gain our daily bread. We do not mind the dainty fops Nor what they may have said.

Some idling people gaze around And, cold and hungry, they complain. Refuse to be a factory hand And vow it is a shame.

For months and years we've toiled here. The past we don't regret. And yet how often we are called The ignorant factory set!

Some other class will walk the streets. Their scornful lips to curl. And cast their haughty glances at An honest factory girl.

How good and noble would it be If all this wicked world Would gain their daily living Like an honest factory girl!

If some of us you do not like, Nor can't endure at all, Just on account of one weak soul, Please don't condemn us all.

But a lot on Myrtle avenue with that grueling struggle for grub is not a corner lot on Paradise alley or Eden avenue.)

RESURRECTION ROCK

by Edwin Palmer
Little, Brown and Company

Barney gazed into the face of Lucas Cullen who stood at him with his head bowed, with jaw dropped; the dim, pink light upon his skin lost a tint as the blood went from Lucas Cullen's face; and Barney knew that he had recognized the voice.

"Direct voice!" some one gasped in awe; and others whispered it. "We're hearing a direct voice! That's her voice—I knew her!"

Bennet Cullen had recognized it and dropped down into his seat, astounded; his mother knew the voice; and Jacard; most certainly of all, Lucas Cullen continued in the conviction that one dead was speaking.

"I am going to tell the account of Lucas Cullen and his family and of myself and my son," said the voice clearly and steadily. "It begins back; yet is brief enough."

So far, even to Barney, the voice seemed to proceed from no located source. He had believed his mother present among the veiled women at the left of the rows where the lights had gone out, but such was the quality of her tone that it seemed not enunciated from one spot but pervasive throughout the room.

Every one was silent. "The beginning," continued the voice, "was when I was a child in the Michigan forest. My father was the man whose spirit just now was here holding the Book of Mormon—whose cabin Lucas Cullen entered to quarrel with him and kick the Book of Mormon from the doorway. My father was Richard Drane. He cleared a farm in the woods, married a gentle girl from Big Rapids, and was living an honorable, useful life when he crossed the path of Lucas Cullen who recently had arrived to make his fortune in the forest."

The source of the voice was discovered. It came from that darkened end of the room where Barney had supposed his mother to be, and as people craned about or stood to see the speaker, she arose and, having cast off her veil and the dark coat she had worn, she stood a little apart, dressed all in white.

"Mrs. Cullen—Agnes—Mrs. Oliver Cullen—She's here!—That's she!—Why did she—How changed! How could it be—"

It seemed to Barney that every one must recognize that she was before them in the body; yet so strong had been the spell of the illusion that a few still saw her as a phantom. Lucas Cullen did.

When she spoke on, Barney recognized that her deliberate, careful words were being recited from rehearsals within herself repeated through years of waiting for such a moment.

"My father," she said, "had abandoned farming to take out lumber, cutting from land he had home-steaded and from surrounding sections which he bought. You could buy timber land cheap in those days; but there were men who thought it foolish to pay the government anything at all for the great trees on the state lands. They bought one section and set up a mill and cut over the square miles all around. Lucas Cullen was one of these men. My father bought from the government five hundred acres of standing timber which he found that Lucas Cullen was cutting. This caused trouble for Lucas when my father asked for a refund on his purchase money."

"But the Mormon Drane—what ever lies Cullen told against him—had one wife only. She was my mother. Cullen spread about lies. One of the lies, which proved in the end the most dangerous, was that the Mormon had lust for the wife of another lumberman, Henry Laylor."

As she spoke, Agnes Cullen came forward and showed herself more plainly in the light. No one—not even Lucas Cullen, in his guilt-clouded consciousness—believed her.

"Barney began to make his way toward her. Now she was stripping her soul before these gaping people not to punish Lucas Cullen, but to acknowledge him, her son."

Her voice for a moment failed. "I told De Chenal why I was as I was, my father was in prison, falsely accused by Lucas Cullen. De Chenal swore to help me; he was hot in my cause," she continued. "He swore to justify my father and punish Lucas Cullen. First, he would marry me. I loved and believed him; perhaps he believed himself in those days: I was very young and he was young and we went to a priest."

"Lucas Cullen learned of it, but gave out that his guest had gone on a hunting trip," she pressed on. "He followed and finally found us. His money, of course, was an influence; I had nothing; De Chenal owed two million francs. Lucas Cullen made his escape easy. I was under age; legal necessities had been ignored. He married De Chenal to his daughter, gave him money and packed him off. It was easier than before to make me an outcast. The next spring, my son was born."

"Mother! Barney cried, forbidding her, as she stepped toward her under the light. From the other side of the room, where she had been, women called her name. But she did not hear them.

"This is my son!" she cried, her hands clasping Barney's. "My son lost to me that summer of his birth because I was made an outcast but now—now restored to me!"

So her son caught her in his arms, as her strength collapsed; with the aid of some women, unknown to him but who lovingly called her "Agnes" and kissed her cheek, he bore his mother through the door at the back of the room and away from the hubbub behind them to where they could be quiet and alone.

CHAPTER XVIII

A WEEK later Ethel was in Chicago, rejoining Barney and Cousin Agnes and learning that Lucas Cullen, Senior, had mysteriously disappeared. He had not been seen after leaving the seance.

Ethel and Barney married six weeks later, at the old house at St. Florentin.

Bennet and Julia and their mother came up for the service, after which Barney and Ethel went west. Agnes returned to Chicago soon after the Cullens went back; and old Sarah Cullen remained at St. Florentin alone with the Indians until July when, after weeks of drought, the forest fires, which had raged for many years, swept through the tinder-dry slashings and second growth of the peninsula and burned the old house to the ground. So Sarah retreated, perforce, to the home of her older son to pray and wait.

Throughout the western forests also drought prevailed that summer. Here and there the flames suddenly burst on two sides of little villages, all but cutting off escape; and in one of these places—a huge old man, strange to the settlers but dominating in manner and plainly expert in ways of fighting forest fire, placed himself in command and turned away the flames from the town.

He himself worked tirelessly in the fire lines with ax and spade; and when word came that two of his men were missing and probably had fallen and were lying overcome by smoke and gases, close in front of the flames, he went in and brought out one man and returned for the other and never came back.

Days later, when the fire had burnt out, and men were able to go to go through the black, smoldering region, they found his remains beside those of the man for whom he had returned. Identification was not easy; but soon the wires carried to Chicago, the information that the old man had been, beyond doubt, Lucas Cullen.

Bennet brought the message to his father at the office.

"He went with his boots on," said Luke, winking wet eyes. "That's how he'd like to go. And—well, boy, it couldn't be better than that."

Ethel and Barney received the news together.

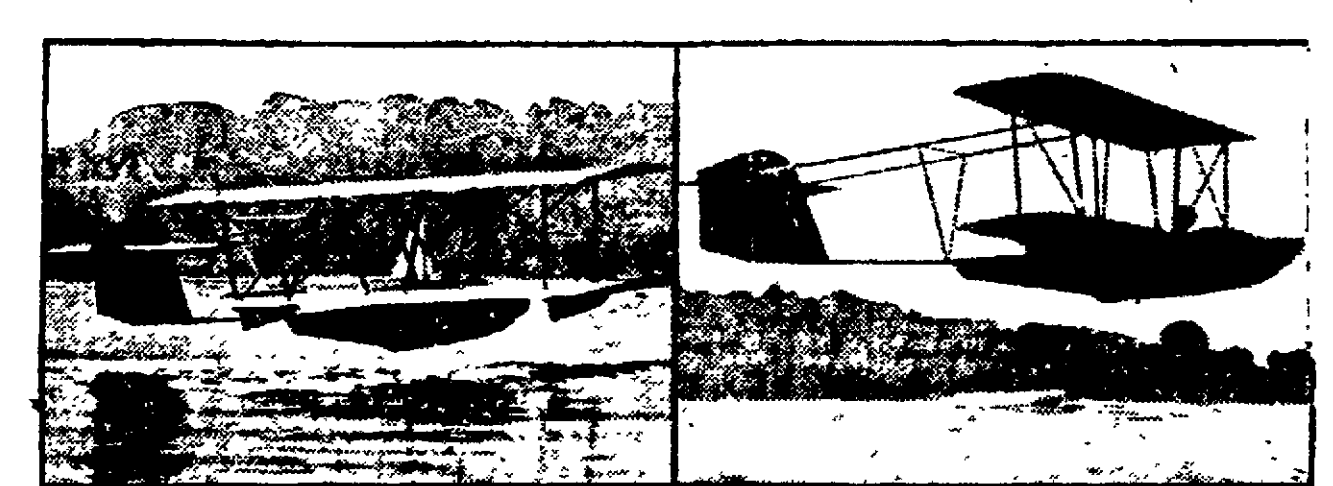

"I knew grandfather wouldn't go without doing something," she said proudly. "You see, he can better face them all now!"

"Yes," said Barney; and he knew she meant her father and mother and his own grandfather of the Book of Mormon, and Laylor and Kin-belle and Quinlan of the flaming torch.

"I guess," Ethel said, "old Jr. Q. can put out his torch. I can't think that one fine act at the end can change one all at once; but there's something begun which, over there, must have power to go on."

CURTISS' STORY OF AIR GLIDER

AMERICA has joined European nations in experimenting with the glider, the most development in flying. Tests made in Germany have started the world. French air-men have been successful, to a lesser degree. Now Glenn H. Curtiss, American airplane inventor, builder and flyer, has made the first glider tests in the United States. In the first glider, ever built to take off from the water.

The world is asking the question: "Is the glider going to revolutionize flying?"

Curtiss predicts rapid strides in development, following his first tests with his glider, which he calls a "sailplane" or "sail glider." He says it will be a "sailplane" or "sail glider."

NEA Service, which is to write an extensive description of his test, in which his glider remained aloft more than a minute.

starting off in tow of a motor boat. Here it is:

(By GLENN H. CURTISS.) The preliminary work of the glider was taught by a number of things. We learned that the pull of the boat in the water is too great for the light tow line which is needed for any real altitude work. We also found that a dead calm is a very poor time to experiment on soaring flight.

There was no wind at all during the first trial, although we did get into the air on three occasions, high enough to cut loose and make short glides, the best test was made on the return trip to Port Washington.

By this time the wind had come up to some extent and although we were traveling broadside to the wind we succeeded in getting the glider into the air immediately.

I rode for about two miles on the line, swinging off some 20 degrees as a result of the side wind.

Maneuvering about considerably, we gained at times on the motor boat and finally, when overtaken by a wind puff, I gained so much on the motor boat that the tow line disappeared behind the glider. I was obliged then to cut loose in order to avoid the possibility of accident when the slack was again taken up.

The releasing mechanism is somewhat complicated, as it is necessary to release two lines at once. These lines form a yoke and are so constructed that the action of the yoke, in other words the pull of the tow line is carried to a point near the center of gravity.

One of the tests in the early future will be to install a very low powered air-cooled motor. If we can succeed in the secret of securing flight we can reduce our power accordingly and may be able to soar over the sea without a motor.

the question of price fixing. That, he said, is the work of the fuel administrators and fuel commissions.

IMPORTANT DEVELOPMENTS

MACON, Ga., Sept. 8.—Attorneys for H. C. Graham, under arrest here charged with the kidnapping of Mrs. Garnet Starr and her sister, Miss Valeria Lamar, made no application for a writ of habeas corpus today, but announced that important developments would take place in the case on Saturday.

DRIFTING APART

By Zoe Beckley.

FRED was appalled. Not only was it unbearable that she could find it possible to leave him, but the choice she offered was a bitter one. "I would like to see you," she said, "but I would like to see you with your own money, or he would have to refuse Connie, and lose her."

"Connie!" There was real agony in his tone. "You're asking something I simply cannot do. I will keep my self-respect and have to quit. I wouldn't be able to face those fellows."

"You'd rather lose their money—the savings their wives have helped them scrape together—and lose me, too?"

"Of course not! It's an outrageous condition. You won't stick to it, Connie—you couldn't be so unfair."

"I certainly shall stick to it. It is you who are the unfair one. You're doing a terrible thing and I'm going to try to stop you in any way I can."

"O—h!" Fred stifled the raging words that rose behind the exclamation. Life seemed suddenly to have closed like a black curtain around him.

Connie watched him in a calm that was tragedy. Fred, you hate me. I can see that. But I shall trouble you with my presence another minute."

ESTABLISHMENT OF THREE RECORDS

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 8.—Establishment of three new championship records in the running broad jump, the hop, step and jump and the mile walk today marked the National A. A. U. junior track and field championship. Each of the nineteen events brought out large fields and developed sterling contests.

Dehart Hubbard, negro lad of Cincinnati and a freshman last year at the University of Michigan, set a new record for the broad jump, 30' 2 1/2 feet 3 1/2 inches as compared to the former record of 23 feet one inch set in 1914 by H. T. Worthington of the Boston A. A.

A. J. Flansky, of the Boston Knights of Columbus, hopped, stepped and jumped 46 feet 9 3/4 inches to beat the record of 44 feet 7 1/2 inches set in 1920 by K. Geist of New York.

Charles Foster of the Detroit Y. M. C. A., negotiated the 3 mile walk in 23 minutes 39.6-10 seconds. The former record, 23 minutes 57 seconds was set in 1920 by L. Labowitz, of New York.

New York Athletic Club carried off point honors with 26.

COAL ECONOMY NEEDED A HOME

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—While average household plan is reliable, so far as the factor of safety is concerned, this is not always true in economy, says the Bureau of Engineering of the department of the interior, and in view of the coal shortage this winter, the householder will have to be very economical in its use.

The engineering bureau has compiled a few facts on coal and its use, to aid the public until coal returns to normal production. The main point of the bureau papers is the need for economy in burning coal.

It has been stated by good authority, the paper said, that 25 per cent. of the coal wasted in home heating can be saved. The main point in economy is cleanliness of the plant as well as an insulator against transfer of heat and must be kept out of the furnace and pipes.

Better coal demands greater care in firing. In putting in fresh coal, it should not cover all the burning surface. If it does, the gases driven off are not ignited and escape. If the shape of the firebox permits fresh coal should be placed over the front of the fire near the door, then as the gases are driven off, they are ignited over the bright rear surface and added to the heat. Later, the coked coal is pushed to the back of the surface and fresh coal again applied to the front. In the case of round heaters, it was said, spread the coal on the lower side and the gases will be contained by the heat on the other. The grates should be left in a flat position, no part protruding into the fire, the department says, the ash pit should be kept clean as ash cut off the air supply, which may cause the grate to warp or burn out. A bed of ash should be kept on top of the grate to prevent burning out, reducing it in size as the weather grows colder, and should never be shaken until live coals fall out. There should be a check draft-damper in the smoke pipe of hot air, steam or hot water heating plants or kitchen ranges, beside the turn damper, to control the radiators at which the fuel burns it to increase draft. All heat pipes in the cellar should be covered to conserve heat, and the use of weather strips, storm windows and storm doors about the house will be valuable. Place pans or open-top jars of water on radiators at front of registers to keep air in home moist.

SEARCH FOR GIRL ELOPER

GLASGOW, Ky., Sept. 6.—Police in all cities of Kentucky, Indiana and Tennessee tonight were searching for Miss Carolyn Shuster, pretty 18 year old daughter of W. Morgan Shuster, president of the Century Publishing Company, of New York, who is believed to have eloped from the home of her grandmother here last night with William Morris, son of the proprietor of a general store.

Immediately after the girl's disappearance was noted, members of her family offered a reward for her return, unmarred. Miss Shuster, in company with her mother, had been visiting her grandmother, Mrs. H. C. Trigg, for the three summer months. A short time ago it was noticed that she devoted much of her time to Morris and it was reported, she planned to elope with him last Thursday, but was frustrated.

GEORGE WORRY TO ALEXANDER

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Sept. 6.—Prince George has come back to Belgrade from Paris, and there are some people here who wish that his present, care-free life in the French capital of recent years had proved sufficiently attractive to keep him there.

George is the eldest son of the late King Peter. As for the throne, he has announced it, and his brother Alexander is sitting there with his new queen, Marie of Rumania, at his side. Together they are busy with the formalities of court life.

George has said in substance, "Here am I, George, son of Peter. I would like to have the status of my relationship to this government definitely fixed. I have not the means to live properly, either here or abroad. My brother, the King, has said that I am a prince. In the meantime, I would like a commission in the army. How about that?"

And of course George has friends, some of whom have interpellated parliament as to why George is not granted the position to which his birth entitles him.

George presents a knotty problem. King Alexander is credited with wishing that he would go to the United States, or some other distant land, and refrain from embarrassing the government.

NEW AGREEMENT DISCUSSED BY MINE WORKERS

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Sept. 6.—The district convention adjourned late this morning to meet again tomorrow morning, the resolution calling for ratification of the new agreement with the operators was still the subject of lively discussion. Despite the fiery oratorical address made on the floor of the convention, the delegates and the scale committee back to negotiate anew with the operators, the union leaders remained confident that the convention would vote in favor of the new agreement. The vote, it is expected, will be taken tomorrow.

The anti-agreement forces were exceedingly active today and their arguments were freely voiced.

Speakers on both sides were loudly applauded. Many of the delegates, however, are taking no part in the demonstration and these quiet members of the convention will probably rule the decision when it is made.

From League Till

LIMA, Peru, Sept. 8.—(By The Associated Press)—Peru does not intend to participate in any further work of the league of nations and will reconsider her decision only in case the United States decide to join the league, according to a statement by Foreign Minister Salomon today concerning Peru's failure to send delegates to the present assembly of the league.

"Peru did not name delegates to the present assembly of the league of nations," the foreign minister said, "nor had it any intention of naming any. Neither does it intend to name delegates in the future, since it considers the league lost all its efficacy when the United States manifested its decision not to form a part of it. Peru will reconsider its attitude only in case the United States should decide to join the league."

ACTION INTERESTING
WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—(By The Associated Press)—The statement from Lima to the effect that Peru is to participate no further in the work of the league of nations occasioned a deep impression in Latin-American circles here. Congress has expressed the step had been decided upon in part at least, through the election of Senor Edwards of Chile to the presidency of the Geneva assembly and was a reflection of sentiment between the two countries.

It was generally agreed that such a development could not be interpreted as a happy one in connection with the ratification by the Congress arbitration of the Tacna-Arica dispute. Opposition to such ratification, it was pointed out, was already being developed by extremists in both Peru and Chile.

Although no one cared to venture a prediction concerning the probable result of Peru's action, the hope was expressed that, if the Tacna-Arica agreement was involved, the two governments nevertheless would smooth out any new differences and bring about ratification of the protocol within the time specified, that is, before October 20.

RAIDERS SWEEP
DOWN ON HOTEL

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—A raiding party of 25 internal revenue agents, twelve police detectives and two assistant federal attorneys swept down on the Hotel Clarendon, 145 East 42nd street, tonight, arrested ten persons and seized quantities of narcotics and liquor.

United States Attorney Connolly, who carried a search warrant issued by Federal Commissioner Finch, said the raid was made as a step in a campaign to put a check to the widespread traffic in drugs in the White Light district.

A police cordon which was established about the hotel during the raid attracted throngs to the scene in such numbers that it was necessary to call out the reserves of two police stations.

When news of the raid reached the audience of two Broadway theatres many men and women left their seats during intermission and rushed to see the raiding party at work.

While the raid was still in progress, Mr. Connolly emerged from the hotel to announce:

"We are finding hypodermic needles, stoves for smoking narcotic drugs and all sort of paraphernalia all through this place, and we are not through yet."

The raid lasted an hour. Mr. Connolly said plans for its accomplishment had been under way for more than a month. Agents, he said, had been registered at the hotel and had gathered the evidence. These agents, the federal attorneys learned, that the usual method of securing drugs was to "get next" to the hotel boys. A "ten dollar deposit," they said, "usually helped along the transaction."

After making the deposit, the bell boy hinted that there were lots of things to see in New York, and that the guests on the way out should not forget the house rules requiring that keys must be left at the desk.

When the patrol returned, the agents said, he received with his key a small envelope which, it is alleged, contained the particular drug the guest had told the bell boy he wanted. The authorities said that morphine was sold at the rate of $40 an ounce, heroin for $45, and cocaine for $35. Charges for guests so served, agents said, appeared on their bills under entries for "auto hire" and "taxicab service."

MUSIC CLUBS TO MEET AT ASHEVILLE

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 8.—The first all-American program to be given by the National Federation of Music Clubs is being planned for the next biennial festival to be held in June, 1933, at Asheville, N. C.

During the last year the federation has established a monthly official bulletin, effected an affiliation with the Opera in Our Language Foundation for presenting American Operas and has obtained co-operation with the National Concert Association.

Much of this work, say members, is due to the efforts of Mrs. John P. Lyons, who assumed the presidency January 1.

The federation now is working on contests in voice, violin and piano open to musicians under thirty years of age, and competitions in various composition.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Sept. 8.—According to a telegram given out here late today by Ernest F. Readey, president of the American Export and Inland Coal Company, with offices in this city, an agreement has been entered into with representatives of a group of Detroit, by which a sufficient amount of coal will be forwarded to the manufacturing plants of the Ford company to obviate the shutdown that was scheduled for September 16.

FACING HARD BATTLE

AND LIEUT. GOV. TRAPP.

OKLAHOMA City, Okla., Sept. 9.—With Oklahoma's chief executive, Governor J. B. A. Robertson and Lieutenant Governor J. E. Trapp, Democrats, both facing felony charges, the state is entering one of its hardest political campaigns.

Trapp is charged with preparing false evidence in obtaining a judgment against the county. Robertson has been under fire for several months. He is accused of accepting a bribe.

Both officials declare the charges have been trumped up as a political attack, and that they are not worried by them.

"It is apparent that the complaint was drawn up as a political move," declares Trapp. "I was vindicated of these charges nearly two years ago by the legislature."

TALIAFERRO IS BONDED
LYNCHBURG, Va., Sept. 8.—After hearing evidence and arguments in the case of L. A. Taliaferro, Clifton Forge barber, charged with violating the injunction protecting the Chesapeake and Ohio railway employees of that place from molestation, Judge McDowell bailed Taliaferro in $2,000 for his appearance here September 27.

The defense demurred as to the writ of attachment, but the demurrer was overruled and evidence heard. Taliaferro swore that he did not intend to violate the injunction when he allowed a sign to be posted in his shop reading: "No scabs served here."
